

Albany Burns Club (aka Glasgow Albany Burns Club)

Overview

The Albany Burns Club was founded by a few members of the soon-to-be-defunct Albany Bowling Club in order '[t]o keep up the old and valued friendships that were made on its turn' ('Club Notes', 'ALBANY BURNS CLUB', in Annual Burns Chronicle and Club Directory, ed. by D. M'Naught, No. X (Kilmarnock: Burns Federation, January 1901), pp. 107-8). They formed their club 'for the purpose of affording its members an opportunity of studying the works of our National Bard as well as meeting together throughout the winter months in a social capacity' (Ibid).

The club met monthly between October and March at the Trades' House Restaurant on Glassford Street (Merchant City, in the heart of the city centre) with membership being restricted to 150 members.

Date of Existence

1899?-? (the 1901 Annual Burns Chronicle gives 1900 as the founding year, while the 1904 Chronicle gives 1899); Federated 1900

Additional Notes

This Burns club sent visitors to and held joint meetings with the following: Rosebery Burns Club, Glasgow Carlton Burns Club, Bridgeton Burns Club, and Sandyford Burns Clubs.

'BC' refers to the Annual Burns Chronicle and Club Directory, which was published yearly since 1892. Hard copies are available at the Mitchell Library Special Collections and the National Library of Scotland. Many of them have been digitised and are available through the Robert Burns World Federation website: <http://www.rbwf.org.uk/digitised-chronicles/>.

This list of Burns chronicles as sources of information gives the first year the club was included in the chronicle, and thereafter only for the years where the information is different from the previous year's listing. In keeping with the scope of this study (1800-1914), only the chronicles published between 1892 and 1914 are included.
